

Cumbria Soaring Club Presents:

“Multi-Flight”

with Chris Scammell and Rod Welford

... a new approach to adventure flying!

Friday Evening 14th December 2018

The Flight Park Keswick

Well-known local pilots and adventurers Chris Scammell and Rod (‘The Vet’) Welford will be presenting their vision for crossing the Cumbrian Mountains by air - and occasionally on foot!

This promises to be an informative and entertaining look at an aspect of the sport that is increasingly capturing the imagination of the free-flying community with the advent of light-weight gear and some high profile events such as the X-Alps and, more locally, our own X-Lakes. Chris and Rod are adamant, however, that you don’t need light-weight gear to take part and offer some exhilarating routes across the Lake District National Park.

Doors will be open from 7pm with the talk commencing 7.45pm. There’ll be plenty of opportunity for beer/wine and chat before, during and after the talk in the fine surroundings of the Flight Park Keswick:

<http://www.jockysanderson.com/escape/js2/index.php/bistro-venue.html>

Non-club members are very welcome to attend @ £3.00 per head
FREE to CSC Members

Please note: the Flight Park has a fully-licensed bar so refreshments can only be consumed if purchased on the premises. Thank you!